JOHNSON TO RESIGN SOON

Police Dive To Rescue

Resuscitation Crew Works Fruitlessly

John Maurice Coffey, 576 Atkins Road, Langford, drowned early this morning in Thetis Lake.

His body was taken from the water shortly after 8.30 a.m. by members of the R.C.M.P.

Officers dove into the water to reach the man and then worked over his unconscious form, applying artificial respiration until a resuscitator arrived.

The resuscitator was provided by the H.M.C. Dockyard fire department. Lieut. Cmdr. J. D. Crowther and Fireman R. Boulton worked on the body until 10.10 when Dr. G. A. Wright declared all hope was gone.

Coffey, according to police, apparently went under while swimming with a friend at one of the sheltered bathing places along the lake shore. Two companions watched helplessly from the shore.

About 30 years of age, the deceased was single and was in partnership with his brother, James, in a tie mill at 925 Arctadia.

An inquest is expected to be held.

Labor Members Would Cut Queen's Pay

LONDON, July 4 (Reuters).—Two Labor members of parliament announced today they will make a bid to cut the Queen's proposed annual state income of $475,000 by nearly half.

They will also demand that allowance proposed for her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, be cut 75 per cent.

Left-wing Labor members James Carmichael and Emrys Hughes issued seven amendments to the Royal payroll worked out by a House of Commons committee and due for debate in the House next Wednesday.

Their motions would cut the Queen's allowance from $475,000 to $250,000 a year.

The committee report granted the Duke a life annuity worth $100,000 a year. The amendments would cut that amount to $10,000. The left-wingers also seek to wipe out the extra $9,000 a year which Princess Margaret, the Queen's sister, will get when she marries. At present Margaret gets $6,000 a year.

Premier Refuses Appeal To Enter Strike Picture

Premier Byron Johnson today refused to make an appeal to opposing factions in British Columbia's major strikes for a resumption of negotiations.

C.C.F. leader Harold Winch said in Victoria this afternoon he had asked Premier Johnson to appeal to the unions and employers to "sit down and start negotiating again."

Mr. Winch said the premier declined to act on his suggestion. The C.C.F. leader, who wanted the premier to make the appeal to both sides in the loggers' and building trades' strikes, said: "I can't see who else can take the initiative but the premier. It would be the logical move for the premier to make."

Where Eight Perished Outside Winnipeg

This was the gruesome aftermath of a collision, Thursday, when a Winnipeg-bound Greyhound bus collided with a parked truck full of heavy machinery. Seven adults and a 12-year-old girl died, 27 other passengers were injured. Two of the dead are still unidentified.

AMERICANS EXPECT 430 DEATHS OVER INDEPENDENCE WEEK-END

CHICAGO, July 4 (CP).—Millions of Americans took a brief holiday from their normal round of affairs today to celebrate United States Independence Day with parades, ceremonies and picnics.

With most work at a standstill and summer's heat in full swing, millions dragged out the swimming suits and picnic baskets and headed for the countryside and beaches.

The National Safety Council estimated that some 80,000,000 persons, riding in 40,000,000 cars, would take to the highways during the extended week-end holiday. Of these, the council predicted, at least 430 would die in accidents between 6 p.m. Thursday and midnight Sunday.

In the May 30 Memorial Day week-end the final toll was 363 traffic deaths, 85 drownings and 62 violent deaths from miscellaneous causes.

Living Cost Index Up Three Fifths in May

Higher Foodstuffs, 13c Potato Hike, Rents, Reported Main Reasons for Rise to 187.3

OTTAWA, July 4 (CP).—The cost-of-living index increased by three-fifths of a point during May to 187.3 from 186.7, ending a four-months, 4.8-point decline from the peak of 191.5 last December, the Bureau of Statistics reported today.

Main cause of the climb, said the Bureau, were higher prices for some foodstuffs, including a 13-cent-a-pound increase in the price of potatoes, and higher rents.

The index is based on 1935-39 prices equalling 100. Rents, surveyed on a quarterly basis, climbed to a new high of 147.9 from 146.3, reflecting a general increase in rentals across Canada.

The food sub-index, slipping earlier this year, increased to 237.0 from 235.3, with prices advancing for potatoes, other fresh vegetables and pork. These outweighed declines for beef, butter, coffee, bacon and oranges.

Home furnishings and services slipped to 197.2 from 198.2, reflecting lower prices for electrical equipment, furniture and floor coverings, offsetting higher prices for laundry service.

With seasonal price drops pushing down the cost of coal and coke, the fuel and light sub-index slipped to 149.8 from 150.6.

There was no sign of a break in the strike of 32,000 coastal woodworkers.

Vancouver carpenters have accepted a proposal of the Labor Relations Board for an hourly rate of $2.10 per hour, but contractors have refused to accept it.

Anti-British Demonstration

ATHENS, July 4 (Reuters).—A "silent demonstration" to end British rule on Cyprus and unite the Mediterranean islands with Greece started through Greece at dawn today.

For four hours towns and cities came to a standstill in protest against Britain's attitude on the issue.

The main cities were ghost towns—not a soul to be seen, not a car on the streets. All traffic, including ships, trains and planes, halted; all workers, bank employees and civil servants stopped work.

Drivers Held In Bus Tragedy

Two of Eight Dead Unidentified In Manitoba Bus-Truck Collision

WINNIPEG, July 4 (CP).—Both drivers involved in a truck-bus collision near here Thursday that resulted in the death of eight persons and injuries to 27 others are being held on a coroner's warrant, the R.C.M.P. reported today.

They are: Robert Stavos, 30, of Crookston, Minn., driver of the bus, and Joseph Sopko, 22, of suburban Charleswood, driver of the truck.

The bus, a Northland Greyhound Lines vehicle, plowed into the stationary truck loaded with farm machinery, 11 miles south of here on the Pembina highway. The bus was bound for Winnipeg from Minneapolis. The truck driver said he stopped and put out warning flares after the truck threw one of its dual wheels.

An inquest into the deaths will open here at noon Saturday. Two women victims were still unidentified at noon today and R.C.M.P. were checking fingerprints in a search for clues. Both were middle-aged.

Five were identified soon after the accident. A sixth—Agnes J. McFale, about 46, of St. Paul, Minn.—was identified Thursday night. She was en route to visit friends in Nipawin, Sask.

Two men, five women and a 12-year-old girl were killed and 27 others injured in the crash. Force of the impact demolished the bus nose and peeled back half the right side. The rear of the truck was buried inside the bus.

The truck and its 10-ton cargo were shoved 78 feet. Seats, debris, luggage and cargo sped 100 feet over the highway.

The child was catapulted from her front seat to the road. Her mother was also killed. Five of the dead were crushed in a six-by-four-foot area on the torn and compressed right side of the greyhound.

Truck Driver Joseph Sopko, of St. Charles, a Winnipeg suburb, said a rear wheel fell off his truck. He stopped, put out flares, then dozed in the truck cab. He was thrown to the ditch in the crash.

The army said several shots were fired during the incident. "Further details are being obtained by army headquarters," it said, "but from information already received from Korea it appears that Pte. Sanscartier threatened a number of his comrades, including his company commander (D'Artois) and fired several shots from his rifle."

"It is understood that in the ensuing efforts of the company commander to protect the lives of the other soldiers, Pte. Sanscartier was struck in the body by a shot fired by Maj. D'Artois and died half an hour later."

"The 25th Brigade provost marshal is investigating the incident and a board of inquiry has been convened."

Maj. D'Artois was one of 60 to 70 volunteers, mainly French-speaking Canadians, who parachuted into France before D-Day to lead elements of the Maquis resistance movement in preparation for the invasion.

D'Artois remained in the army after the war and in 1948 he and P.O. Robert Carson Race of Hilliers, B.C., both received the George Medal for leading the Canon Turner rescue.

Maj. D'Artois led the party of army paratroopers who landed in northern Baffin Island to care for the Anglican missionary. They prepared a landing strip for a plane to land and take him out. Canon Turner, seriously wounded when a rifle accidentally discharged, was taken to Winnipeg where he later died.

Will Ask Major Party Leader to Take Over

Premier Byron Johnson announced today that as soon as the counting of votes is finished the Liberal government will resign and he will recommend that the leader of the largest party elected be asked to form B.C.'s new government.

The Premier's announcement came when counting of alternative ballots had made it clear that the government was soundly defeated in the June 12 voting. The Premier was personally defeated in his own riding.

Whether it will be C.C.F. leader Harold Winch, or a leader to be chosen by the Social Credit party at a Vancouver meeting July 15, who will form the new government is not definitely clear, although Mr. Winch appears to hold a slight edge.

Up to press time, the C.C.F. party had elected nine members and were leading in 11 other seats. The Social Credit party had elected 11 and were leading in six others.

Liberals, Progressive Conservatives and Labor had elected one each.

JOHNSON STATEMENT
In acknowledging the defeat of the Liberal government, the Premier made the following statement:

"Needless to say, the results of the election are extremely disappointing to me as leader of the Liberal Party.

"However, living in a democratic country as we do, we accept the wishes of the people.

"The government, which I have led for some years, will continue to guide its course on strictly constitutional lines as in the past. As soon as all results from all ridings are known officially, it will be my duty to recommend to His Honor the Lieutenant Governor that the largest group in the House form a government. At this stage, it is still not known definitely which party has the largest group. Until that has been determined, my colleagues and I will carry on the affairs of the province as best we may without any major commitments being undertaken that would intrude upon any new policies that may be formulated by a new administration. The public can be assured that their rights will be safeguarded to the end and that the government will take the earliest opportunity of resigning when all the results are known.

"I would, at this time, like to take this opportunity once again of thanking all those who worked so hard and supported the cause of Liberalism.

"In looking back over the years, it gives me a great deal of satisfaction to have witnessed the industrial expansion and era of prosperity that has been enjoyed by British Columbia through policies laid down in order to bring this condition about.

"It also gives me a deep sense of satisfaction to know that during my term of office many of our measures for human welfare have been greatly improved and new ones introduced for the benefit of the people.

"The Liberal Party, I feel sure, will continue to advocate these policies which have been so beneficial to the people in the hope that once again it will be given an opportunity to administer the affairs of this province.

NO MAJORITY
Whichever of the two leading parties take over the government, it seems clear that the new administration will be unable to command a majority in the House.

For this reason most observers predict another election within a year.

It is expected the new Premier will call the Legislature together as soon as reasonably possible and test his support. He will then decide on his course of action, whether to ask for another election immediately, or attempt to carry on as a minority government.

The possibility of a new form of Coalition was speculated upon today, but there was nothing definite in the wind.

SOCRED MEETING
Lyle Wicks, president of the B.C. Social Credit League, called a party caucus for July 15 to choose a leader, but denied that the question of forming a Coalition with the C.C.F. or anyone else would be discussed.

The defeat of both Premier Johnson in New Westminster and Progressive Conservative leader Herbert Anscomb came about on the third count. The Premier lost to C.C.F. candidate Rae Eddie and Mr. Anscomb was toppled by Liberal Archie Gibbs.

Victoria and district appeared to be the only Liberal stronghold left in the province. The three Victoria seats are still undecided, but three Liberals are maintaining their lead in a recount of first choices.

Most surprising feature of the election was the enormous strength shown by the Social Credit party which got organized only a few weeks before the campaign.

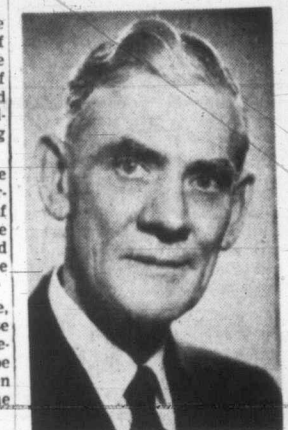

They were in the fight in nearly every riding.

P. A. GIBBS

Tory Chief's Conqueror Stays on Job

Philip A. (Archie) Gibbs, Oak Bay's small but energetic giant killer, is a man of many occupations.

A good deal of his time Thursday, for instance, was taken up with duties which go along with the job of being reeve of a municipality. This morning he was busy with clients of his chartered accountancy firm.

Sometime between these activities—at 9.45 Thursday night to be exact—he took on yet another job: that of being M.L.A. for Oak Bay in the provincial parliament.

Gibbs' victory for the Liberal party on the fourth count of Oak Bay ballots was a surprise to many who regarded that the residential area would swing once again behind Conservative party leader Herbert Anscomb, another chartered accountant, who has been a member of the legislature since 1933.

But where highly-touted Liberals elsewhere in the province lost out, Gibbs, the little man with the betting odds against him, won.

He was particularly happy about the result but no special celebration was called to mark the occasion. Instead, when certain of the result, he called over his friend and campaign agent George Gregory for a quiet chat.

Snowsell Close to Win; Fort, Holms Eliminated

Election tension tightened in Victoria today, with only one riding definitely decided and one other second count completed as the battle of the ballots turned into a war of elimination.

Tabulating teams moved into high gear and:

1. Thursday night declared Archie Gibbs, Liberal, elected in Oak Bay.

2. This morning put Frank Snowsell, C.C.F., within 712 votes of a win in Saanich on second count.

3. Knocked out Progressive Conservative candidates Robert Fort in Esquimalt and Cecil Holms in Saanich.

Mr. Snowsell increased his lead over Liberal Arthur Ash as the second count was completed in Saanich at 12 noon.

Second count totals: Ash, 5,420; Holms, 3,920; Snowsell, 7,235. Needed to elect: 7,947.

Third count started at 1 p.m. with Mr. Holms eliminated. In Esquimalt, completion of the first count re-check showed no startling changes, although Frank Mitchell, C.C.F., picked up most absentee ballots. As the second count started, shortly before noon, Liberal Geoffrey Edge-low appeared to be gaining slight

Canadian Major Shoots Private

OTTAWA, July 4 (CP).—The army said today that Maj. Guy D'Artois, one of Canada's most colorful soldiers, recently shot to death a Canadian private who had been threatening his comrades and shooting off his rifle on the Korean front.

Pte. Joseph Emile Hector Sanscartier, 20, of Cantley, Que., was killed the night of July 1 in the lines of the 1st Battalion, Royal 22nd Regiment.

An army statement said Maj. D'Artois, Sanscartier's company commander, shot the soldier to protect the lives of other men.

A board of inquiry is investigating the incident.

Maj. D'Artois, a slim, dynamic 36-year-old Montrealer, won the D.S.O. for parachuting into France and playing a prominent role in the resistance movement which fought the Germans in the months before D-Day, 1944.

He won the George Medal in 1948 for leadership in the spectacular Arctic rescue of Canon John H. Turner.

M' Uncle Zeke takes one look at th' results from th' ballot boxes an' yelps, 'Let's lock 'em up fer another three weeks!'

Cost o' livin' is up—if y' call it livin'.

Thet alternative vote seems t' done more alterin' than alternatin'.

ON THE TIMES

By ART STOTT

At Red Cross Headquarters, on Fort near Cook, they're missing the quiet, effective determination of a good friend. They're preparing for another blood clinic and Major K. G. Mickleborough isn't there to help the drive along.

For more than a year the major stood behind the show, lending a hand where it was needed, giving the clinic direction, not saying much, but saying it where it counted.

Stott

Last month, when the Red Cross opened its new Keith Wilson memorial unit, Major Mickleborough attended the ceremonies. He was there to assist in clinic work the following day. Shortly after, the heart that had carried him back to his feet from a crippling illness, that had enabled him to make a tired body respond to the demands of an unbeaten spirit, gave out.

Next Monday the technicians and the Red Cross staff will swing into action locally to build up the blood bank. They'll be working with their usual precision, with their usual efficiency and the usual ideal of service to humanity before them.

In the background they'll feel some of the influence Major Mickleborough brought to his share of the task. In its way, although no formal notice will be made of it, the clinic will be something of a memorial to the man who has gone. It can't be otherwise. Too many of the Red Cross folk have come to think of the clinic in terms of Major Mickleborough.

And something of that spirit is required to help the Red Cross reach the local goal it has set for itself. So far this year, the society has listed an attendance of 4,386 at clinics. That is nearly one-half of the 10,000 pints of blood this community has fixed as its 1952 objective.

Big Day Monday

To meet requirements the clinic needs about 250 donors on each day of operation. Monday it hopes to pass that number when it starts at the Parliament Buildings, before returning to headquarters for the next three days.

It faces a minor obstacle. These are holiday times. Some of those willing to give blood will be out of town. Some will find it inconvenient to make appointments. That makes the appeal to others just that much more pressing.

The Red Cross is doing all it can to facilitate clinic attendance. Operations continue from 1.30 to 4.30 in the afternoon and from 7 to 9.30 in the evening. For those kept at home by children, the society goes a step further and offers sitters service as well as transportation.

You think of the work the society is doing in collecting blood—a work that takes approximately 40 cents of every dollar it collects nationally. You think of the dependence it places on the public—the same public which puts it over the top regularly in local finance campaigns. And if you've been to earlier clinics, you sort of give yourself a nudge to make sure you don't miss this one. You're needed just a little more now because a lot of folks are out of town.

A Pint a Year From 10,000

"If only," says Mrs. V. A. Thistle, who does a lot of the organizing, "10,000 Victorians would give a pint a year we'd have our quota. That's all it would take."

Already, in preparation for the next clinic, she and other staff members have sent out 1,700 notices, have distributed 60 posters and have made countless telephone calls.

Down at headquarters they haven't any misgivings over the readiness of Victorians to give a pint. It's just that they're worried too many citizens might figure this is one to skip.

It isn't. None of the clinics can operate economically if they take less than 250 pints a day. It's a costly service the Red Cross is helping the public to give to itself—costly, that is, in terms of the Red Cross budget, but cheap in comparison to the health it restores and the lives it saves.

They're hoping down at headquarters that the Major Mickleborough spirit will be shared by a lot of Victorians during the first half of next week. It's the kind of spirit that gives a community grounds for pride—and one that this city has shown when other Red Cross appeals have been made.

New Casualty List Shows Five Canadians Wounded

OTTAWA, July 4 (CP)—The army today issued its 121st casualty list of the Korean war, reporting five men wounded in action and one injured in action.

The last previous list was issued June 30.

The list brought to 912 the number of casualties so far suffered by Canadian troops in Korean action, including 160 dead, 679 wounded, 64 injured, eight missing and one prisoner.

The list:

Wounded in action:

Carriere, Robert Clifford, Pte., 1st Battalion, P.C.L.L., Winnipeg.

Helgren, Yeden Ralph, Pte., 1st Battalion, P.C.L.L., Cranbrook, B.C.; Mrs. F. M. Helgren (wife), High River, Alta.

Laprise, Laureat, Pte.; 1st Batalion, Royal 22nd Regiment, St. Athanas, Que.

McCormick, Cameron Neil, Pte.; 1st Battalion, R.C.R., Alexandria, Ont.

Tetraul, Leo Alexander John, Tpr.; B Squadron, Lord Strathcona's Horse, Naicam, Sask.

Injured in action:

Petit, Marcel Joseph, Pte.; 1st Battalion, P.C.L.L., Duck Lake, Sask.

R.C.M.P. at Dawson Creek report the first death on the John Hart Highway, from Prince George to Dawson Creek.

Donald D. Wetherill, 36, of Groundbirch, a village near Dawson Creek, was killed when his truck overturned 14 miles north of Summit Lake on the way to Prince George.

Island Pilot Missing

British and Canadian air-sea rescue units continued today to search for F.O. Raymond J. "Digger" Conti, 21 of Ladysmith, who disappeared in a Sabre jet fighter over the North Sea some three days ago.

A member of 439 Squadron, R.C.A.F., he last reported from a position 10 miles off the Yorkshire coast with his fuel running low.

He was stationed at North Luffenham, having left Canada May 30 in the first flight by Canadian jet fighters across the Atlantic. The squadron forms part of Canada's commitment to N.A.T.O.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. John Conti, Victoria, Crescent, Ladysmith, he enlisted after graduation from Ladysmith High School. He first became interested in aviation as a member of 257 Air Cadet Squadron, Ladysmith, and according to squadron officers was one of the most brilliant cadets in the group. During his training at Centuria, Ont., and Catham, N.B., he flew all types of air force jets before being selected for the crack 439 Tiger Squadron.

"DIGGER" CONTI

T. Eaton-Picnic Day for Children

Annual staff and family picnic of T. Eaton Co. Ltd. this year will be chiefly a "children's day."

It will be held at the Vancouver Island Rangers' grounds at Happy Valley, July 16.

Bus will leave Eaton's store at 1, 1.30 and 2 in the afternoon, taking the employees and their families to the picnic site.

The committee of managers arranging the day hope to create a small-scale country fair atmosphere for the children, complete with rides on a miniature train and enclosures of various small animals.

Condensed from CP, AP, and UP Dispatches

BUGGY—First it was Colorado beetles, then it was germ warfare in Korea, now it's the "American white spinning moth."

This is the latest Communist bug accusation against the United States.

Hungarian newspapers reaching Vienna claimed "American white spinning moths" had made their appearance and villages were waging a "fierce fight" against the moths, which had destroyed fruit trees.

In Czechoslovakia, meanwhile, the newspaper Rude Pravo announced that in future potato bugs will be known as "American beetles."

INJUSTICE—In Ottawa taxation policies have caused many western farmers to curtail production, Robert Fair (S.C., Battle River) said in the Commons today.

Speaking during discussion of Revenue Minister McCann's estimates, he said "farmers have not had any too much justice in taxation."

He cited the case of a farmer who had sold some of the animals in a cattle herd owned partly by his wife and then invested $13,000 of the proceeds in a government annuity for his wife. He had been charged $1,184 as a gift tax.

PRECAUTIONS—In Mexico City the government called out 60,000 troops today, with Mexico's national elections only 48 hours away, to prevent recurrence of violence that already has cost 22 lives.

Army troops and police received orders to break up political meetings and guard against sabotage at power plants, water systems and other utilities.

About 5,000,000 voters will go to the heavily-guarded polling areas Sunday to elect a new president and Congress, but the outcome may not be known until late next week.

ATTRACTION—In Bisley, Eng., Canada's rifle team settled into its quarters and prepared for the 1952 Bisley shoot which opens Monday.

A top attraction in the Canadian squad is the father-and-son team of Lieuts. James and Gilmour Boa of Toronto, Gilmour, 28, firing his father's gun, last year won the King's Prize. They have decided this year, that if only one reaches the Queen's hundred-top group of marksmen—he will use the same rifle.

Texas Delegates In Wild Revolt

Split Over Eisenhower-Taft Support
Highlights U.S. Election Picture

CHICAGO, July 4 (CP)—The bitterly-disputed Texas delegate contest involving 38 votes that may prove decisive in nominating the Republican presidential candidate at the national convention next week was up before the party's national committee today for decision.

One delegation—calling its opponents thieves and worse—wanted to vote for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower. The other—denouncing the Eisenhower forces as mostly Democrats in disguise—was for Senator Robert A. Taft.

The 106-member national committee had the job of deciding—for the time being, at least—which crowd to let into the convention.

With Taft forces running the committee, nobody here had much doubt that most if not all the Texans winning recognition today would be wearing Taft buttons.

But that was far from being the end of it.

Delegates who lost their contests before the committee, and this year that means Eisenhower delegates with few exceptions, can appeal to the convention's credentials committee, and a vote of the convention delegates themselves.

Eisenhower's supporters hope to win back some of this week's lost delegates in appeals to the

Labor Board Will Probe Steel Strike

WASHINGTON, July 4 (AP)

The National Labor Relations Board plans an immediate investigation of charges by striking C.I.O. steelworkers that major steel producers have "entered into a conspiracy" to prevent settlements with any affected company unless the "big six" agree.

President Truman made virtually the same charge at a press conference Thursday. He accused the major steel companies of conspiring to draw out the strike, and said the situation does not call for use of the Taft-Hartley Labor Act.

Truman indicated strongly he did not plan to follow the "request" by Congress that he try to end the 33-day work stoppage by asking the courts for an 80-day injunction against the strike, as provided for in the Taft-Hartley law.

The union said, "shortly after the president's press conference, that the purpose of the alleged conspiracy is to 'prevent any one of the (big six) companies from reaching final agreement on a new work contract.'"

Heavy Typhoon Toll; 85 Dead

MANILA, July 4 (AP)—The typhoon which pounded the Central Philippines Wednesday and Thursday left 85 dead, 115 missing, and over 10,000 homeless, in complete reports showed today.

Complete losses totalled millions of dollars.

The typhoon today was 250 miles west of Manila and heading northwesterly across the South China Sea.

U.S. POLIO TREND BLACK

WASHINGTON, July 4 (AP)—Polio myelitis seems to be more prevalent in the United States this year than last, the Public Health Service said today. It gave these examples of the trend:

1. More cases have been reported for the first 26 weeks of the year than for the same period in 1951.

2. The cumulative total for the first half of 1952—3,683 cases—is much larger than the 2,974 reported in the first six months of 1949, the record year for polio.

During the last week 583 new cases were reported through the United States, 162 more than in the preceding week.

NOW REDS SEE LEPERS

MOSCOW, July 4 (Reuters)—British troops in Korea were accused of "dropping lepers in the rear of the People's Army" by the Soviet navy newspaper Red Navy today.

The paper accused British armed forces of being "accomplices in the bacteriological warfare begun by the American interventionists."

It said "already in 1951 English servicemen, particularly English naval sailors, were engaged directly in the spread of leprosy in the northern districts of Korea, dropping lepers in the rear of the Peoples' Army."

President Truman repeated at his Washington press conference Thursday that he will not accept presidential nomination himself, and will not run for the Senate.

His own choice for the presidency, he said, will be known at the Democratic convention starting July 21 in Chicago.

In St. Louis, the Post-Dispatch reported that Truman had told friends he will support Averell Harriman, the mutual security administrator.

Works Staff Reduced, No Misfits

There are no "square pegs in round holes" in the city's public works department according to city manager Cecil Wyatt.

He was asked the question by Ald. Jim Neely at a public works committee meeting Thursday after the committee received a report on progress of a survey of the department.

"How many men in the administrative end have been dispensed with?" asked Ald. Neely.

"I think about eight of the inside staff," replied Mr. Wyatt.

He added that the staff decrease resulted from budget cuts and resultant less work.

"It doesn't say we were inefficient previous to this?" asked Ald. Neely.

"No," replied Mr. Wyatt.

A survey of the public works department was ordered earlier this year after charges of inefficiency by some aldermen.

While he stated there was no misfits in the department Mr. Wyatt outlined certain accounting and procedure changes which he said will improve efficiency.

A Conference On Germany

IN THE decision to confer with Russia on the future of Germany the United States obviously has yielded to the pressure of the British and French governments. It has put unity with its allies ahead of what it considers serious tactical dangers in the German struggle.

On the one hand the British government is pressed by a large element in the Conservative party and by the whole Labor party to do everything possible to secure an agreement with Russia on Germany's future before Germany is armed; while the French government, though willing to accept it if there is no alternative, fears German rearmament.

On the other hand, the United States believes that a conference with Russia now may postpone and perhaps endanger the ratification of the two Bonn agreements by which Western Germany is to be freed of allied occupation and admitted to the new European army. Chancellor Adenauer seems to feel the same way.

The Russians certainly are working desperately against time to prevent the rearmament of Western Germany and to detach it politically from the west. The offer of a four-power conference at this time is primarily an attempt to delay, confuse and finally prevent the ratification of the Bonn agreements.

As the United States fears, that attempt may succeed as Russia prolongs the four-power conference with alternating threats and concessions. The French government replies that the conference will clarify the mind of Germany and Europe at large by proving either that Russia is ready to make a real German settlement or that such a settlement is impossible and that there is no alternative to a German rearmament.

None of the three allied governments involved objects to negotiation with Russia. All want a settlement in Germany and elsewhere. The only question at the recent meetings between Messrs. Acheson, Eden and Schuman is one of timing —whether there should be a four-power conference before or after the ratification of the Bonn agreements.

Now that the decision is for an early conference—if Russia accepts a reasonable agenda in advance—Russia may be expected to show some apparent change of policy. For its present purpose, which is to stifle the Bonn agreements, Russia must appear at least to be offering the hope of a real German settlement in order to attract the Western Germans eastward. But there is no sign whatever that basic Russian policy has altered in the least.

That policy is to dominate all Germany sooner or later and thus to dominate the heart of Europe. On the surface anyway Russia may be ready to pay a pretty high price for this ultimate purpose, may even agree to free German elections since for Russian designs almost anything is better than a re-armed Western Germany allied to the west.

The danger, as the American government has foreseen, is that during the four-power conference, before the Bonn agreements are ratified, Europe will find itself enmeshed in a long, confusing and finally indecisive negotiation as a result of which the allies will be split, just as Russia certainly hopes.

The British and French governments evidently think that these risks must be taken to avoid the suspicion among all Europeans that the allies are unwilling to negotiate under any conditions.

While the present American government apparently accepts this reasoning reluctantly it is impossible to foresee the policy of President Truman's successor, especially if he is a Republican.

American policy in Germany, in Asia and everywhere else must be tentative and inconclusive until the election has established a new government for the next four years. Meanwhile Russia will seek to exploit this period of uncertainty by every possible means in its primary aim of dividing the free world.

Flouting the Law

One of the most amazing and audacious statements in British Columbia's labor history emanated from Port Alberni Wednesday, where I.W.A. vice-president Joseph Morris is quoted as telling a meeting of 900 striking woodworkers that "The government-supervised strike vote is to all intents and purposes a dead issue in B.C."

"By job action," Mr. Morris continued, "you accomplished what the present government refused to do by legislation."

This refers, of course, to the loggers' independent strike vote, taken before the deadline was reached. This vote resulted in a strike which was clearly illegal under the law of this province and has been so admitted by I.W.A. district president Stewart Alaphy of Vancouver.

What the Port Alberni union speaker says, then, is this: if you don't like the law, break it.

Clearly, this is an invitation to anarchy. It should be repudiated at once by responsible union authorities, for it will most certainly be rejected by the people of this province.

We don't dispense with laws at the whim of an individual, or by the impulsive actions of any special group. If the law needs changing, it will be done through the proper legislative channels.

British Columbians generally are dissatisfied with the inept way in which this whole affair is being handled. The law is there, and it should be enforced. Mr. Morris may have had some notion that, in making this government-banned pronouncement, he was putting starch into his followers, who have been out 20 days now and doubtless are beginning to feel the pinch.

The fact is that he has seriously damaged the union's already tenuous position and in so doing has weakened its case in the eyes of thousands of British Columbians, to whom the law remains supreme.

Adaptability and Survival

SURVIVAL THROUGH ADAPTABILITY is the inexorable law of nature, and it is nowhere better illustrated than in the field of pest control. For the lower orders of creation appear to have a tougher hold on life than many of the higher, changing with amazing rapidity to meet new situations.

It was found in Egypt that infant deaths could be reduced by 40 per cent through killing off house flies. Three powerful insecticides, including DDT, were used, and for three years the campaign had every appearance of success. Now, however, the flies have developed a resistance to the poisons. The non-affected flies have survived and increased in their previously lethal environment. And the rate of human infant mortality is again rising.

Apparently the flies can adapt more readily to the preventives than the humans can to the flies.

The struggle, of course, has not been abandoned. New insecticides are being developed. But a long battle is in prospect, with little hope at present that man can ever relax and claim a permanent victory.

BOB RUARK SAYS:

It Was As Big as This

RESTIGOUCHE RIVER, New Brunswick.—Heaven help us all, father has a new vice, and it seems likely to become worse than all the other time-wasters, money-wasters and work-wasters he has managed to pursue in a misspent life. To now I have always sneered at fishing. That was before I broke into the scaly pastime with a 20-pound Atlantic salmon on a fragile rod.

Just call me Isaac for short and Walton for long, because I been a bit real bad. In past I been bit real bad by horses, dice, shotguns, anything that Abercrombie and Fitch peddles, and dogs. It seems likely now that my substance will be squandered on Hardy rods and exotically named salmon flies, and I will dwell forever in the north woods while wife and family starve.

A man's first salmon is a heady thing. It is rather like being tied onto a tornado. Since the Restigouche River is stiff with determined salmon, I have ridden several whirlwinds lately. Any salmon over 10 pounds on a light rod is roughly like tackling a tiger with a .22, or so it seems when you've hung onto him.

One of the reasons I care for salmon, unsmoked, is that it does not take a great deal of talent to enter into a brawl with one. It is sort of like wandering into a Third Avenue bar on Friday night and making a series of anti-irish remarks. There was a recent instance on the St. John River when a deaf and dumb amateur, using impromptu tackle, killed five salmon whilst seven completely equipped experts averaged a total of zero.

ALREADY you will notice the snobbish touch creeping in. We use the word "kill" when speaking of salmon, instead of "caught," or "took," or "boated." In a day's time I speak learnedly of grilse and smolt—not smelt—and parrs, all of which denote age-and-size groups of fish recently met only in cans.

I am real glib, also, about salmon flies called such improbable names as Black Dose and Brown Fairy, which seem to be attractive to big fish, and will conform to custom on Jock Scotts and Silver Wilkissons.

But it is my private opinion that salmon will go for old cigarette butts and fragments of Kleenex, since at this time they do not strike from hunger. They strike from annoyance and ill temper. This is the only non-human creature I ever met with a disposition to equal mine.

The salmon liar is the greatest sporting liar I have yet met, in that he outdoes the quail liar, the girl liar, the liquor liar and the horseplaying liar. A bunch of us amateurs are up here with a professional fish-and-game writer named Ray Trullinger, who was the only man not to come in with a fish on the first day.

ALL the neophytes landed a fish, but Mr. Trullinger came in with an improbable story about being involved with a large rock. He said the large rock lost him a fish which would have topped anything we fished-in by several pounds.

Since Mr. Trullinger did not even see the fish—he admitted later under Chinese torture of particular intensity—and since he did not even gaff a small sliver of rock, you may understand how his testimony was hoisted down by the triumphant majority. At the moment we are thinking of setting him up as United Nations correspondent while giving his old job to Mr. William Philip Simms, the emeritus foreign editor. Mr. Simms is pure hell on salmon.

There is a peculiar viciousness about salmon fishing that is most appealing. People who catch salmon delight in burning the feet and soul of people who do not catch salmon. Poor Mr. Trullinger has not suffered so exquisitely since somebody put a live-yearling bear in bed with him, in a spirit of camaraderie.

To prove how a fish degrades a man, I will say this: The 20-pound salmon I caught did not weigh 20 pounds. He weighed 18 pounds. Well, 18 pounds anyhow, but I like to think I wore a lot of weight off him before we slung him into the canoe. You see?

As Our Readers See It

HUMILITY?

Since Canadians seem to regard our national holiday as a day of mourning, judging by the almost utter absence of a display of flags, or any patriotic ceremony to commemorate Dominion Day, I suggest that we go all "out out" and adopt the Stars and Stripes and celebrate the Fourth of July as our national holiday.

The lack of a truly Canadian national flag is evidently the cause of this apathy. The humility of flying the British flag is certainly disheartening to most Canadians. The remedy? A national flag of our own.

YACHT FLOCHT

With regard to the proposed inner harbor float, I wish to say that I am in full agreement with your editorial, and the letter from Mr. Saunders in Wednesday's issue. Both of you, however, neglected one important argument against this rather useless expenditure.

The point is this: the tourist who comes in a yacht is probably one of the poorest customers the city gets. Most of these people cruise right up the coast, and stay in town only one or two days. They sleep aboard their craft, and frequently eat their meals aboard, thus eliminating money for hotel and restaurant. Therefore, these people really spend less than most other tourists. To spend money to attract them is therefore poor economics.

If the council wishes to spend this money on tourist attractions, they should use it to attract more profitable visitors, I feel, however, that it should be spent on our needy local agencies. While I am writing, I should like to add one more bit. Mr. Saunders mentions the harbor smell; bad though it is, I think those telly-ho carts are far worse. They not only smell foul (all along the route, not only at the Causeway)—but are a serious problem in traffic. It is futile to synchronize lights, paint traffic lanes, eliminate left turns, etc., when these vehicles are permitted to move through our arterial streets at their funeral pace.

EVIL ON EARTH

The possibility of a third world war should dwarf all lesser issues to insignificance. More than 30 millions of our neighbors were ruthlessly done to death in the last war, and it is questioned whether God exists; whether He is merciful in allowing such terrible torment; or whether it is possible for him to be petitioned to deliver humanity from the results of their own folly, in the event of the present international crisis flaring into the flame of yet greater conflict, and tragedy.

And the point at issue seems to be whether we are to trust in our own mortal resources in weapons of war, or to enquire of God.

After 6,000 years of recorded history it should be apparent that we cannot prevent conflict. It is with us today in Korea and elsewhere. It is the best we know—subjugate the enemy, or try to keep them at bay. The very fact that they are allied to us as the enemy precludes the possibility of peace.

We know there is evil on the earth. We cannot remove nor destroy it, nor legislate it out of existence.

There is no alternative—we are required first to acknowledge our own human insufficiency. That first, and then to enquire of God. Failing that, our self-righteousness invites the most fiendish weapons that men can devise, used against us without mercy.

But once a man acknowledges his Creator, and the mediator between God and man, there's no lack of evidence that He is merciful beyond any known human compassion.

THE BROAD VIEW

With regard to the subject of discount on the American dollar, which has been aired over the radio of late, I, as an American citizen, have this to offer.

I do not think it unfair in the least for merchants to charge the discount, as I am well aware of the discount Canadians had to suffer for a number of years, most of whom took in stride, though there were occasional and rather violent objections, with a few rather insulting letters written to the papers.

When the discount was slight, many merchants, particularly in the cities near the border, such as Bellingham, did take Canadian money at par. Further south, merchants, especially those not versed in current exchange rates, to protect any further drop, may have discounted over the prevailing rate and also allowed for the bank charge (always about 2 per cent or more). Of course when the rate was around 10 per cent, naturally no merchant could assume the loss, but I understand this rate was not a result of inflation or deflation of the Canadian dollar (as it is today of the American dollar)—due to unlimited and wasteful government spending) but due to the fact that the rate was pegged by Canada's finance department, as a means of fostering Canadian exports.

I also know of numerous cases where American tourists, even with the rate around 10 per cent, were given no premium on their money in Vancouver stores, but were given Canadian currency in change at the same rate. Consequently many tourists and visitors had to sell this money at the prevailing rate after returning home. The big effect, of course was a great slump in Canadian tourists and towns and cities nearest the border suffered loss of a very nice source of revenue and profit.

The present small discount will not discourage too many tourists, however, and I suggest my fellow Americans take it in good sport and in good stride, along with the other expenses of a trip to a beautiful island. I think the ones who make the strongest objection are from more distant points and were not even aware that for some years past their own money was at a premium, here.

Pearson Criticizes

Ottawa Citizen

Mr. Pearson, the minister of external affairs, has spoken with some feeling of the dictatorial action recently taken by President Syngman Rhee of the Republic of (South) Korea. Anything done by the Canadian government to help curb Dr. Rhee and strengthen democracy in South Korea would surely have broad public support here.

Platforms And Policies

BY WALTER LIPPMANN
from Washington

THE two conventions will soon be adopting their platforms, and those who have to write the planks on foreign affairs do not have an enviable job. From July to November is a long time in this turbulent world, and they cannot count on the situation's remaining frozen during the campaign.

Many a thing said with resounding fervor in July could look very foolish indeed by November. They can risk a certain amount of viewing with alarm and of pointing with pride—but only if it is directed to the past.

Boasting and denouncing, promising to do this and swearing never to do that, will be peculiarly hazardous in the great predicament of our foreign policy.

The predicament, which is painful to the nation and sheer poison for politicians in an election year, is that the system of the alliances we have constructed in Asia and in Europe will, as we now conduct those alliances, call for larger American contributions of money and military power.

The Truman administration has been overestimating the contributions that come from the other members of the alliance. They have planned the alliance on a scale which the available resources of its members cannot support.

As long as the whole business was in the planning phase, it was possible to make a fine showing of paper armies based on paper promises. But we are now entering the period for carrying out the plans, and the hard fact of the matter is that our two principal allies, Britain and France, are dangerously over-extended and committed beyond their resources.

They are doing their utmost to get along for a while by delaying, postponing, stretching out, holding their breath and treading water in order not to embarrass us during the election.

But whoever is elected, and no matter what his platform says, this country is facing a crisis arising out of the fact that our global policy is not solvent—the liabilities and commitments of the policy are not balanced, and not nearly balanced, by the available means and forces of the alliance.

The postponement of this crisis cannot be carried on for more than a part of a year at best.

NO REDUCTIONS

It is almost certainly a pipe dream to suppose that this crisis can be met and overcome, as so many Republicans seem to think, by reducing our expenditures and our forces abroad. It is no less a pipe dream for the Democrats to suppose that what President Truman has been asking in the way of men and money this year is a reasonably accurate measure of the carrying costs, year after year of all the policies to which we are now committed.

The hard core of the problem is that the costs in men and money of our existing policies—which the Republicans would like to promise to reduce—are in fact seriously underestimated by the Truman administration. Thus the Administration plan for the build-up of air power is calculated on the assumption that the Korean war does not exist, as a matter of fact that war is making serious inroads upon the global power of the United States.

Even if Congress will vote what the Administration is asking, the development of our air power is not only stretched out but what may prove to be worse still, it is strategically divided and therefore dangerously diminished.

The situation in which we find ourselves is not agreeable. It is by no means hopeless. But all sound reasons for hoping require the doing of difficult, delicate, expensive, and by no means simple things. In drafting a platform that deals with our situation no honest and informed man can promise anything that is easy or pleasant or cheap to do.

Ups and Downs

By BRIAN TOBIN

"IT'S quite a temptation," said the Elevator Man, "to treat the other fellows the same way he treats you, especially when that way is bad. We feel the urge to out-do the villain in villainy, give him a cursory out-cursing, and out-play him in any of the little games he tries to start. But though it's pretty satisfying at the time, there really isn't much future in it. That fellow in Ohio, for example, isn't really getting anywhere. He's been wearing shorts, winter and summer, for years, as a protest against women who show their legs. But all he seems to be proving is that exposed legs are the best style. He's given himself into the hands of the enemy, and hasn't a clothed leg to stand on. Going down!"

"The same thing," said the Elevator Man, "holds in larger affairs. There are always a few who say, for instance, 'The Communists would clamp down on us in Russia, wouldn't they? Why don't we clamp down on Communies here?' It's certainly a tempting prospect, but you might lose much more than you gain. Is it better to have your Communists (if you have to have any at all) in crowded jails, or in lecture halls empty because nobody bothers to go to hear them? In a jail the Communist could be a danger. Outside, if they're ignored by everyone but the officials whose job it is to keep tabs on subversives, they won't do any harm. The catch, of course, is that they might not be ignored. Some well-meaning but short-sighted idealist might be talked into believing them. Some lame-brain, hoping politics will cure his own shortcomings in life, may see their ideas as a possible chance of getting more than he's willing to give. The answer, of course, is education, which is a somewhat harder commodity to give away. Lower main!"

"The thing is," said the Elevator Man, "when the dog barks do you have to bark back? Repayment in kind is all right. It's much harder to be kind in repayment."

Whittaker Chambers: 'Agreeable, Remote Colleague'—A Man Who Has Been Through the Fire and Found Peace

WITNESS, by Whittaker Chambers. Random House of Canada Ltd., Toronto. 808 pp., $6.

By STUART KEATE

THE long-awaited Whittaker Chambers book is out—and few books published in recent years have created such stir in the literary world.

In three weeks it has climbed to number one position on the New York Times' best-seller list, where it is undoubtedly bedded down for a long stay.

It has become the Book-of-the-Month selection for June, which means that a million persons on this continent alone, more or less, will read it.

It has already been the subject of a brilliant essay (by Prof. Sidney Hook) on the cover of the N.Y. Times book review section; of a somewhat sour disquisition (by Brendan Gill) in The New Yorker; and of a symposium in The Saturday Review of Literature wherein one writer, bless his ingenious little heart, put his name to the amazing assertion that "Alger Hiss is innocent."

In the current issue of Look magazine, Alistair Cooke writes about "the nagging doubts" of the trial, and invokes the shades of Titus Oates, master fabricator of the 17th century.

In effect, the Great Case is being fought all over again. Those critics who do not like ex-Communists have, in effect, ignored the book and reviewed the author. Some, like Elmer Davis, confess that they don't like Chambers but feel he has been telling the truth. Many have hailed him as a scintillating new writing talent.

The fact is, of course, that Chambers has been recognized—among his fellow practitioners—as a man of unique gifts ever since he started to write. Thirty years ago Lincoln Steffens hailed him as the new wonder boy of proletarian literature.

Chambers' articles in Time and Life in the decade 1939-48 were read and admired by millions who, because of Time's policy of anonymity, never knew the author. But, for a measure of the man's creative genius, let those who keep these magazines stacked in the attic dig up his "cover" stories on Professor Toynebee, Marian Anderson, or Reinhold Niebuhr. Let them re-read his precious fantasy called "Ghosts on the Roof," in which he had the Muse of History and the ghosts of the Tsars eavesdrop on the Yalta conference, where Alger Hiss was acting out his sinister role. Or better still, let them turn up the handsome book called "Life's Picture History of Western Man," to which Chambers contributed (again, anonymously) the essays of the Middle Ages, the Venetian Republic, the Age of Exploration, the Enlightenment and the Edwardians.

From all the foregoing it may be implied that this reviewer is biased in favor of the author of "Witness."

Let me hoist my flag right away: I am. I like what I know about Whittaker Chambers. I think he is a good man. I think he has done his country, and indeed the western world, a great service.

At Time, he was an agreeable, if somewhat remote, colleague. He spoke softly, puffed his pipe, and went about his business quietly; a slightly incongruous figure—for that plush, concrete heaven-in his baggy sack suit.

On the rare occasions when he attended an office party he sat back with the air of a tolerant, amused Buddha, observing children at play. He preferred to do his speaking on the typewriter. And what came out of his monastic corner office rolled and thundered far beyond the boundaries of this continent.

I did not know him intimately, but we had good friends in common: Sam Welles, who shared an office with Chambers and, as chief of Time's Ottawa bureau, was now one of this country's most ardent spokesmen; and John Barkham, the gracious South African who left Time to become literary critic, and eventually managing editor, of Coronet.

Through them I came to know something of Chambers: how he had broken with Communism in 1938, a year before he came to Time; his 1939 warnings to the State Department about Hiss; his turn to the Quaker faith, which now gave him the countenance of a man who had been through the fire and found peace.

On his writing ability alone, Chambers would have been a respected figure in any journalistic office. What won him the affection of many younger writers was the sympathy and understanding he brought to his work as their editor. For example: on my first day at Time I met an old friend, a Canadian, whose presence on the staff was a complete surprise to me. I asked him how it was going.

"To be absolutely honest with you," he blushed, "I haven't had a line of my own in the magazine in the four months I've been here."

"Then how have you survived?" I asked.

"Well, don't misunderstand me," he grinned. "Stories with my name on them have appeared on the managing editor's desk, and they have appeared in the magazine—but they aren't my stories."

"How come?" I wanted to know.

"I'm writing in Foreign News," he explained. "I'm working for a brilliant editor named Whittaker Chambers. He gives me stories to do but apparently I haven't got the style. So he looks my stuff over, put a new sheet of paper in his typewriter, writes my name at the top of each story, and then writes it the way it should be written. With his style I guess it doesn't fool anyone. But I'm still here."

This practice, which I came to realize was not uncommon at Time, is referred to in "Witness." Some writers took violent exception to it, arguing that, if they were worth the handsome salaries the magazine was paying them, their stories should be worth printing; if not, they should have been fired.

My Canadian friend was grateful to Whittaker Chambers for the patience and gentleness he brought to his editing. It is true that, through Chambers' intervention, he was "carried" for four months. But in the fifth month, he got the knack. He stayed on to become a valued member of the staff.

(This is the first of two articles on Whittaker Chambers and "Witness.")

12 Red Planes Shot Down By Allies in Sky Battle

Savage Fighting Erupts Along Three Sectors
As Allied Artillery Hurls Back Communists

SEOUL, Korea, July 4 (AP)—Allied fliers shot down 12 Communist Mig-15 jets today in a Fourth of July battle that was the second greatest victory involving Migs of the Korean war.

In addition Allied planes probably shot down a 13th Mig and claimed six others were damaged.

The day's score was just one short of the all-time record set last Dec. 13, when 13 Migs were shot down, two probably destroyed and one damaged.

Today's big battle came when the Migs tried to break up an Allied bombing attack.

The battle between 97 F-86 Sabre jets and 115 Migs was one of the Korean war's biggest air fights, although it fell short of the all-time record, the Fifth Air Force said.

There were 11 separate engagements today.

On land, savage fighting began the Chinese gave up the battle and pulled back to their own lines, the army said. A spokesman said 100 Reds were killed and 200 were wounded.

Commonwealth Economic Meet Planned

OTTAWA, July 4 (CP)—The federal government is making preparations for an early Commonwealth economic conference, Prime Minister St. Laurent said in the Commons today.

He emphasized that Canada is not taking the initiative but indicated some other Commonwealth elements will be calling the conference at "a not-to-distant date."

Mr. St. Laurent made known partial information on the probable conference under questioning by George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, and John Diefenbaker (P.C.-Lake Centre).

U.N. TRUCE DELEGATES AGREE TO SECRET MEETINGS PROPOSAL

MUNSAN, KOREA, July 4 (AP)—Allied truce negotiators today accepted the Communists' bid for secret sessions and voiced hopes that the Reds are ready to modify their demand that all Allied-held war prisoners be sent home.

Maj.-Gen. William K. Harrison Jr. told the Reds the United Nations would agree to a news blackout. The negotiators immediately went into a 40-minute secret session. Another was set for Saturday.

Brig.-Gen. William P. Nuckols, U.N. spokesman, described the first secret meeting as "quietly impersonal." He added "both sides spoke frequently . . . with a certain amount of consideration and caution."

U.N. negotiators have said they want more details of the Communists' Thursday proposal for reclassification of war prisoners and checking of prisoner lists.

Railway Workers Seek 45-Cent-an-Hour Hoist

MONTREAL, July 4 (CP)—Seventeen non-operating railway unions announced today they are demanding a wage increase of 45 cents an hour in negotiations with the railroads for new collective agreements to become effective Sept. 1.

Other demands, an official statement said, include a cost-of-living bonus of 1 cent an hour for each one-point rise in the cost-of-living index, a union shop and check-off of union dues by the railroads.

At the same time, union officials announced that a conference between the unions and the railroads has been arranged for Monday.

The union demands went to the railroads Thursday by letter. Railways affected are C.P.R. and C.N.R. and their subsidiaries, the Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo Railway and the Ontario Northland Railway.

The announcement came from the office of Frank Hall, chairman of the negotiating committee representing the unions, two of which are Canadian and 15 international. They represent 125,000 non-operating railway workers—those who do not actually operate the trains.

The union's letter outlining the wage demands requested a conference within 20 days.

In his statement, Mr. Hall said "It is hoped" to bring the negotiations "to an early conclusion."

The two-year agreement expires Aug. 1 and resulted from the arbitration award of Mr. Justice R. L. Kellock of the Supreme Court of Canada after Parliament legislated the end of the railway strike of August, 1950.

Under the settlement, the wage increase was seven cents an hour, but the work week was shortened. The further increase through this cut-out averaged 19 cents, making a total increase of around 26 cents an hour.

Painter Sentenced On Theft Charge

A Brentwood painter drew a 30-day jail term in Saanich police court at Royal Oak Thursday on a charge of theft.

Harold H. Clarke was charged with the theft of a steel drum owned by contractor Norman Copley.

EMERGENCY STATE EXISTS IN EGYPT

CAIRO, July 4 (Reuters)—A state of emergency was proclaimed in Cairo and Alexandria today and police security guards patrolled the main streets of the troubled cities.

But authorities stated "absolute calm prevails everywhere." The precautions are evidently calculated to stem any disturbance resulting from last week-end's change in the Egyptian government.

The new government, under Premier Hussein Sirry, called its first cabinet meeting Thursday after swearing in Wednesday.

Senate Approves Redistribution Bill as House Nears Adjournment

OTTAWA, July 4 (CP)—Parliament, sitting since Feb. 28, is due to end its session today.

The legislators will adjourn until Nov. 20 and soon after that are expected to prorogue and start off a new session that will run into 1953 and constitute the main sitting for that year.

Business of the current sitting drew within striking distance Thursday night when the Senate gave quick approval to the bill for redistributing Commons representation, most controversial measure of recent weeks in the Lower House.

Earlier in the day, the Commons itself gave the bill third and final reading after a concluding attempt by the Progressive Conservatives to give it the six-months' hoist. The hoist was defeated by a vote of 90 to 27.

But with that controversy out of the way, the progress towards prorogation slowed up somewhat as the Commons gave over part of the afternoon sitting and most of the night to discussion of post office department estimates.

In this it heard: 1. A demand by George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, that the use of the mails be barred to Communist material such as that put out by the leftist Canadian Peace Congress.

2. A renewal by about a dozen members of the annual call for improvement in the system of paying rural mail carriers.

3. Urgings by some members that the post office department revive the two-day mail delivery in urban residential areas, discontinued last year.

Postmaster-General Cote, piloting his estimates through the House for the first time, said his department objects to censoring the mail and must have evidence that an offence is being committed before it can act to bar the mails to an organization.

Mr. Drew said that the department has shut off mail service for lotteries, and it should take similar action against "seditious, disloyal and scurrilous" material being sent by the peace congress.

Baseball Action in the Major Leagues

Solly Hemus of the Cardinals had his guard up against Alvin Dark's knee, crashing into the Giants' shortstop as he was forced at second on Red Schoendienst's tap to Dave Koslo.

It was close, but the Cubs' Johnny Parnes, blocking the plate, was in time to put the tag on Davey Williams. The Giants' second baseman was attempting to stretch it from first on a pop fly by Hank Sauer in left, but was nailed on a relay from third baseman Randy Jackson.

On the OUTDOOR FRONT

By ROY THORSEN

This week we're just ramblin' around... Capt. Ken Ewing, of Work Point's art school, doesn't believe in starting at the bottom to get his angling laurels. This week he landed his first button fish in Saanich Inlet.

Handsome prizes offered members of Victoria Fish and Game Protective Association in current drive for membership build-up. One lucky member will win a television set.

Doreen Greene, 15, of 818 Anderson, was in tackle stance Thursday picking up a set of neat McGinty flies to be used for earrings.

J. L. Stevens writes to local sportsmen's store (Wednesday) that there is a good run of bluebacks off French Creek. He's honest about springs offering—"Only a few large ones taken."

Bill Hawkins. He was up there with Sid Crawley and Sidney Belthier. They got skunked.

Roger Monteith said he got word Wednesday there is fairly good brand of evening fishing at Cowichan Bay. Attraction is Jacksprings and blues. Cowichan River fishing guide Joe Hancock was in town briefly the other day, claims Cowichan La.

He says fishing right now is good all over the lake, rates the hour before sunrise and an hour before dark the best fishing time; recommends silver flatfish and a wobbly spoon (the McKnight). Says fly fishing no good. The river's finished until fall, said Hancock, who classed the river fishing this year as very poor.

Hancock says Copper Canyon, about four-five miles up Chemainus River from saltchuck, has been offering fine steel-head fishing. He referred to Victoria's Cee Rhodes, Cee Rawlings and Pat Dunn for verification. He guided them recently, the trio getting five up to eight pounds.

Campbell Lakes, river and the saltchuck are providing a good brand of sport at the present time, according to word reaching Stan Williams here. He has also heard the sport off Qualicum is good. Says there are some salmon in Active Pass and Satellite Channel, but none at East Point, South Strathcona Island.

In Lower Campbell Lake recently L. Smith and J. Wardell abandoned former method of fishing and went in for spinning. They came home with a lovely creel, fish going up to two pounds. Battle Lake fishing right now is tops. It's only for a select few, those who can afford a plane trip—or you might make a try at it with dog-sled, jibed "Blondy" Williams.

Saw Harry Pooley, veteran sportsman and former Attorney-General, fondly handling an ancient .44-calibre pistol, a beautiful piece of work somebody brought into Monteith's the other day. Pooley said the twin-barrel muzzle-loader was commonly called a "horse pistol." It was made in 1855-56 by the gun maker to His Majesty.

Joe Gibault, spinning off Saanichton Spit this week, reeled in a six-pound coho. Williams tells me "a lot of people are going to eat those words they flung at me for not being able to catch a big salmon" when his new boat is completed. He can even visualize himself outstripping Capt. Ewing's mark. "Like him, I'm going to start on top and work down." Some salmon off Oak Bay now, but hard to catch. They're feeding on some kind of sand animal, insect or something.

Dawes Answers Critics Of Olympic Selections

MONTREAL, July 4 (CP)—

President A. Sidney Dawes of the Canadian Olympic Association said Thursday that, returning from a one-day holiday with his family, he found his desk "littered with complaints about the selections made by the track and field committee of the Amateur Athletic Association of Canada."

The complaints followed the Olympic track and field trials held at Hamilton last Friday and Saturday.

Dawes said that according to the letters a number of additional competitors should have been included on the team. He said complaints were about non-selection of Mary Lawrence and Jo Brennan of Toronto in the women's field events; Fred Rush of Niagara Falls, Ont., in the men's shot put; Bob Bazos of Toronto in the decathlon.

Dawes' statement said there were also complaints that Jack Burney of Vancouver and John (Chick) Turner of Toronto, both runners, who now are overseas, were not included. Burney is in the American army in Germany and Turner is at Oxford University.

Dawes said none of these athletes, excluding Burney and Turner, during the Olympic trials "made the equivalent of sixth place at the 1948 Olympic Games, which was the standard called for by the C.O.A." For this reason they were not selected.

Dawes added: "There is a complaint that we should have taken Jack Burney and John Turner. Neither of these competitors was present at the trials and the C.O.A. refused to alter its policy that only those who made the standards at the trials would be selected."

Barons May Stay in A.H.L. For Some Time

CLEVELAND, O., July 4 (BUP)—

General manager Jim Hendy said today the Cleveland Barons may play in the minor American Hockey League for several more seasons instead of re-applying to the National League for membership next year.

"It's a 10-to-1 shot we stay in the American League for a while," he said. "It's up to the directors whether we make another application to the National League next year."

Cleveland was turned down Wednesday by National League directors at Toronto after more than a month of drawing out the inspection of reports, setting up qualifications and demanding the Barons meet more stringent financial requirements. The league executives finally decided Cleveland had not met the financial standards because the Barons' backing was borrowed from the Cleveland corporation's stockholders.

Hendy said the Barons could go ahead with plans to play in the American League next season, because the club did not pull out after seeking N.H.L. membership.

Ted Kroll Leads Motor City Open

DETROIT, July 4 (AP)—

Ted Kroll fired a seven-under-par 32-33-65 Thursday to grab the first day's lead in the $15,000 Motor City Open golf tournament.

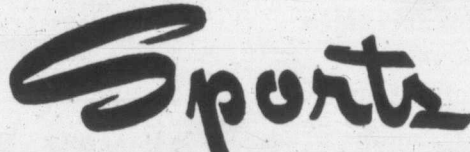

The best any of the 170-odd pros and amateurs could do over the Red Run Golf Club course was 34-33-67 by the veteran Henry Ransom.

Kroll sank a 155-yard, six-iron on the par four 425-yard seventh hole for an eagle. He birdied five other holes and never went over the course's 36-36-72 par.

Pete Fleming, defending Motor City champ Lloyd Mangrum, Jim Ferrier, Dave Douglas, Dick Mayer and Al Zimmerman all carded 68's.

WHIP LEAGUE LEADERS

Butler's Near Second Place

Butler's Aces combed two Pitzer and Nex hurlers for 16 hits Thursday night at Central Park to thump the Senior A Men's Softball League leaders 14-7.

By winning Aces moved to within a game of second-place Forest Products.

Playing without the services of three of their regulars, the Gasmen were guilty of several misplays, the Aces taking advantage of this loose play.

Probably the key play of the game came in the bottom of the eighth.

The Gasmen, who had to come from behind as the Aces scored five runs in the first inning, were gradually getting to Archie Sluggert and had a rally going in the eighth, as they still trailed 11-5.

RALLY ATTEMPT

Vic Dale opened with a single. Ab Wiebe tripled. Ray Byers lined out to second and Verne Evans followed with a walk.

Ken Gunter doubled to left centre and by the time ball was back in the infield both Evans and Wiebe had crossed home plate.

MISSING THIRD BASE

However, Evans missed third base and was called out on the appeal play.

That cut the threat short and the Aces put the game out of reach with three runs in the ninth.

Everyone in the Aces' line-up with the exception of Willie Benn picked up a hit last night.

Aces meet Forest Products tonight at Central Park and, with a win over the Millmen, could move into a tie for second place. Game time is 6:30.

Short score follows:

Table with 4 columns: Team, W, L, Pct. Rows include Butler's Aces, Pitzer & Nex, Forest Products, and Nex & Wiebe.

Bryant Spoils Ray Crabbe's No-Hit Bid

Ray Crabbe threw his hat into the select ring Thursday night but Joe Bryant ticked it out again.

Pitching for Timkeners of the Senior "B" Softball League, Crabbe had a no-hitter against Joe Fosters until the ninth inning when Bryant reached him for a triple.

However, it was the only hit Crabbe gave up and Timkeners moved closer to fourth place with a 10-3 victory.

Losing pitcher Bryant gave up 10 hits while Crabbe pitched shutout ball until the last two innings when Fosters picked up their three runs.

Tyees Edge Wenatchee; Meet Indians Twice Today

Victoria 15, Wenatchee 11

By BILL WALKER

Carl Gunnarson won his first game as a Tye Thursday night. But even Carl would have a hard time describing how it happened.

First, he wasn't around at the finish of the 15-11... er... W.I.L.L. contest.

Second, neither was Bill Wisneski who followed him to the hill.

Third, neither was Walter Towns, who put in one of his rare and equally as brief appearances.

But if Carl wants to know how it happened the guy he can ask is Jehosie Heard.

Little "Jay," or as a press box wag was heard to remark "now they've decided to use a 'pro'," stifled the Chiefs when called upon to halt a threatening eighth-inning outburst, which he did in true professional fashion.

There had been other explosions before in this one, and when the Chiefs loaded the bases on Wisneski (he threw seven balls) and Towns (the three eighth), it appeared that others would be dilled by comparison.

But Heard with the Tyees leading 14-10, struck out Norm Ridgeway on three pitches, gave up one run as Ross McCormack grounded out, whiffed Rip Robnett, and jauntily strode from the hill. He duplicated the feat in the ninth.

Don Pries booted a ground ball from Bill Stites, Laurie Monroe singled, Ridgeway doubled, McCormack walked, Robnett doubled, (Gunnarson was still in.) Dahle singled. Five runs were across the plate.

Then the 35-minute nightmare that was the seventh inning, began with the Chiefs being accorded the visitor's privilege of taking the first bow.

With one out, Gunnarson walked Palmer and the score-keeper diligently bent to his task.

The Chiefs, however, ripped back with three straight singles, paused while Ridgeway drew a base on balls and pumped out two more singles to score four runs and tie the score in the fourth.

Gunnarson was still around and so was Dave Dahle, his rival, until the seventh, the Tyees picking up singletons in the fifth and sixth frames for a 7-5 lead.

McCormack had singled home Bud Helmaa to give the Chiefs a 1-0 lead in the second. Tyees replied through five hits and a helpful error by Ben Guerrero to punch across five runs in the third. Enough, it seemed, at the time.

But back before Heard's appearance, things were happening to both sides, but the cork didn't pop until the seventh.

McCormack had singled home Bud Helmaa to give the Chiefs a 1-0 lead in the second. Tyees replied through five hits and a helpful error by Ben Guerrero to punch across five runs in the third. Enough, it seemed, at the time.

ENTRIES CLOSE TONIGHT FOR CITY NET TOURNNEY

Entries close at 6 tonight for the Victoria city lawn tennis championships which start at Victoria Lawn Tennis and Badminton Club Saturday night.

Tournament officials expect a large entry with most city clubs sending delegations.

Play will continue each night with semifinals billed for Thursday and Friday and the finals Saturday.

One of the most dangerous entries is expected to be veteran Will Browne-Cave who recently retained his men's singles crown in the Camosun Tennis Club championships.

EIGHTY STARTERS

B.C. Tourney Opens Monday

A field of 80 will start Monday morning in the 18-hole qualifying round for the British Columbia Women's Amateur Golf Tournament at Colwood Golf Club.

Following the medal round, qualifiers will start match play Tuesday and continue until the 36-hole final Friday.

GRID LECTURE BY DON LONEY

Don Loney, who played first-string centre with Ottawa Roughriders last season will be passing out grid tips at an open practice Sunday at 2 at Victoria High School grounds.

A member of the Royal Canadian Navy, Loney is stationed at H.M.C.S. Naden and has offered to preside at Sunday's workout.

RENEWED DRIVE BEGINS

Curlers Speed Efforts

The Victoria Curling Club has decided to step out alone in its efforts to build a curling rink in Victoria.

At an executive meeting Thursday night, it was decided that the current bond sale being conducted by an investment house was not meeting with satisfactory results.

A committee, headed by Max Zabel, was formed to speed up the drive to collect sufficient funds for construction of the proposed rink.

Others on the new committee are George Tucker, Eric Bullock, W. J. Hyde and Jack Adams. Kirby Moysiey is in charge of advertising and publicity.

The new drive was scheduled to begin this morning with campaign headquarters situated in the Dominion Hotel parking lot. Local business firms will be canvassed.

Immediate objective of the drive is $50,000-$80,000 to begin construction on the eight-sheet rink that will likely cost a total of $150,000.

The Victoria Builders' Exchange and the Junior Chamber of Commerce have offered full assistance in the effort.

An order was placed with the Canadian Ice Machinery Company for $42,500 worth of equipment Thursday and a 10 per cent down payment was made on the machinery.

Next general meeting will be held in the Dominion Hotel Wednesday night at 8.

TIME OUT! By Jeff Kento

"Think there's anything to the rumors of dissension on the team?"

BOWMAN HURLS NO-HITTER

OAKLAND, Calif., July 4 (AP)—Lefty Rodger Bowman, Oakland pitcher on option from New York Giants, pitched a no-hit, no-run game Thursday night against Hollywood, leader of the Pacific Coast League. Oakland won 5-0.

It was the league's second no-hitter of the season, both turned in by Oakland hurlers. Hal Gregg, now with the Giants, pitched a seven-inning no-hit game May 1 against Portland.

Bowman was sent down to Oakland on option by the New York National League club as part payment for Gregg.

Bowman allowed only three men to reach base on walks. One was erased in a double play.

UPSET SALMONACS

V.L.C.'s Share Boxla Lead With Shamrocks

NEW WESTMINSTER, July 4.—Vancouver Lacrosse Club reached into their hip pockets to defeat New Westminster Salmonacs Thursday night and regain a share of the Inter-city Lacrosse League lead with Victoria Shamrocks.

The V.L.C.'s scored four goals in the final period to break a 10-10 tie and take a 14-10 decision.

Coach Walt Lee also aroused over the lackluster refereeing, credited Vancouver's third straight triumph over Salmonacs to goalkeeper Jack Green.

Wasn't he terrific?" he exclaimed.

Green's performance was just that. The agile netminder interally broke Salmonacs chances in the heated fourth quarter, turning aside 11 shots.

The losers pressed "retired" Ralph Douglas into strip, but even his creditable efforts on defence failed to offset Green's work. Douglas, who helped in the absence of John and Skip Mackay and Lou Landess, will be available until the termination of the lumber strike. He is a m. foreman.

Jim Swanson, Gogie Stewart and Ed Hanson fired Vancouver's attacking units. Swanson scored

TRAP-SKEET TOURNNEY GETS AWAY SATURDAY

The sound of musketry fire was heard this afternoon at the Victoria Gun Club's Albert Head Road grounds, 10 miles from the city centre.

The marksmen on hand were polishing up on their shooting-eye for the Saturday and Sunday big championship trap and skeet tournament. At stake during the next two days are the Vancouver Island skeet and the B.C. trap championships trophies.

Scores of marksmen from the Pacific Northwest, including many from south of the border, will be on hand for this tournament, the biggest ever held on local soil.

Rhee Wins Korean Fight On Presidential Choice

People to Vote Instead of National Assembly; Political Crisis Near End

PUSAN, Korea, July 4 (AP)—President Syngman Rhee tonight won his fight to shift election of a Korean president from the National Assembly

The assembly adopted a series of compromise constitutional amendments which may mean an end to Korea's political crisis.

The 77-year-old president also won adoption of his demand for a two-house legislature, replacing the present one-house assembly.

Under the compromise, the assembly gained the right to overturn the cabinet by a vote of non-confidence, and the prime minister rather than the president will name the cabinet. Rhee will continue to name the prime minister.

The assembly voted 613 to 0 approval of the amendments, climaxing six weeks of feuding with the president. Three members abstained.

The session was called amid reports that Rhee intended to dissolve the assembly and call for new elections. Attendance was greater than at any time since Rhee declared martial law May 25. Some members were rounded up by police.

1,000 Red Cross Donors Required

A Red Cross blood clinic next week will require 1,000 donors, officials said today.

Monday the Red Cross mobile clinic will be at the Legislative Buildings from 9.30 a.m. to 12 noon, and from 1.30 to 4.30 p.m.

The public is invited to donate blood at the clinic in Red Cross House, Fort Street, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, from 1.30 to 4.30 p.m., and from 7 to 9.30 p.m.

NEW YORK LAWYER CHARGED WITH HEADING ADOPTION RING

NEW YORK, July 4 (AP)—Marcus Siegel, 53-year-old lawyer accused of heading a black market baby adoption ring, last night was convicted of inducing others to commit perjury and illegally placing a child for adoption.

Siegel was found innocent of 16 other counts—three charges of forgery and 13 charges of subornation of perjury. Two other charges were dropped earlier.

He was continued under bail until sentencing. No date for sentence was set. He could get a maximum of six years in prison and a $5,500 fine.

Siegel was accused of masterminding a baby adoption ring in which babies were taken from unwed mothers and sold for fees up to $4,500.

Seven others also were indicted elsewhere on charges that they ran a baby ring that reached through the eastern U.S. and as far south as Florida.

During Siegel's trial, witnesses remained unidentified so that foster parents, mothers and children involved would be protected.

ISLAND DIGEST

PORT ALBERNI, July 4.—Alberni shipyard has installed a cradle large enough to handle vessels up to 123 feet in length. Vessels can be taken from the water and launched regardless of the height of tide.

LADYSMITH, July 4.—Funeral for Joseph Meek, 73, retired coal miner, was held today. He died Tuesday at Ladysmith General Hospital after a long illness.

Veteran of the Boer War, he came to Ladysmith in 1907, and later served in the First World War.

NANAIMO, July 4.—Construction of a large shopping centre on the site of the central sports ground is expected to begin shortly. Work has been held up through lack of steel, but it is understood steel is now available.

NANAIMO, July 4.—Larry Grais, 16, made a game attempt to prevent armed robbery early Saturday morning, it was revealed in evidence at the trial of John Parlsen, Work Point Barracks trooper.

Parlsen pleaded guilty to two charges of armed robbery and theft with violence and was remanded to Monday for sentence.

Grais attempted to stop Parlsen from escaping from the service station, but was knocked down by the accused.

ALBERNI, July 4.—Search for six-year-old Peter Thomas, missing from the Seshant Indian Reserve since Wednesday, continued today. He was last seen near the River Bend Bridge, and teams of R.C.M.P. and volunteers have combed the Somass River area, but fear he fell into the river while retrieving a ball.

SOOKE, July.—A rumor circulating in the district that a beauty contest will be staged at All-Sooke Day on Sooke River flats July 26 has all the pretty girls in the district—and the young men—on pins and needles.

It would be held in conjunction with the carnival, logging sports, track meet, and barbecue planned by Sooke Community Association.

Suggestion from Ald. Robert Macmillan for all-week illumination of the city's stringed colored lights and parliament buildings, during the summer months, will be studied by the city's street lighting committee.

VICTORIA, B.C., FRIDAY, JULY 4, 1952

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

This is the birthday of Mr. Lionel A. Huxtable, the district sales manager of the British Columbia Telephone Company. (A company, I am told, which provides telephone service, although you cannot prove this by me.)

Therefore, I wish to take this opportunity of wishing Mr. Huxtable a very, very, happy birthday. And many more of them.

I would prefer to make my greetings more personal. I should dearly love to telephone Mr. Huxtable, and wish him all the best.

Unfortunately, I have no telephone.

To make Mr. Huxtable's birthday complete, I suggest that all other non-telephone-owners whose applications have been duly noted, might try to borrow a neighbor's phone and wish Mr. Huxtable health and prosperity.

The telephone number is E 5083.

He has a telephone.

I am sorry to state that the efforts of the corps of vote-counters operating today are going to no avail.

In fact, the re-check, the second-counts, the third-counts, are completely meaningless.

If you wish evidence, see the adjoining advertisement, which is reprinted from The Toronto Telegram of June 24.

It is too bad the social crediters in Ontario did not tell us about the victory sooner so we could have saved the trouble and expense of counting the ballots.

My only complaint in this matter is, if Social Credit won here as early as June 24, where is my $25 a month?

Bill Halkett, the demon photographer, has a new deal at the neighborhood barber shop.

After complaining bitterly for some months, on the grounds that he shouldn't have to pay full price for the amount of hair he can offer to the shears, his barber made him this deal:

For $1.00, a trim and a simonize.

On the subject of hair—or lack of it—an anonymous constituent wrote to tell me he moved from Vancouver to Victoria, and within three months, hair was growing on his formerly bald pate.

This looked like a stellar item for the Chamber of Commerce until further investigation showed the gentleman in question had been living with his mother-in-law in Vancouver.

Friend of mine in a morbid mood, was consulting a folder produced by a mortician.

"What gets me down," he moaned, "is the high cost of leaving."

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

Lack of money is the reason some city-owned lots and boulevards will have to remain "jungles," Cyril Jones, city engineer, told a City Council public works committee meeting Thursday.

The public will be admitted to a civil defense meeting Saturday at 10.30 a.m., on the second floor at the city fire hall, L. G. Hatcher, city engineer, said today.

Speakers will be Sir John Hodsall, Britain's wartime civil defense head, and present civil defense chief for N.A.T.O., and Maj. Gen. F. F. Worthington, Canada's civil defense head.

Darrel Berrigan of the Saturday Evening Post left Victoria this afternoon after a day's visit, during which he called on Premier Byron Johnson.

Mr. Berrigan is researching a series of articles on Canada for his magazine, and has spent four months touring the country from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

A University of Portland student from Victoria, Francis D. Milligan, was one of 10 undergraduates to make straight A grades during the spring semester. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Milligan, 446 Cook St., and a junior in the university.

St. Andrew's and Caledonian Society will hold a concert in Beacon Hill Park at 8 o'clock tonight, featuring the Highland Games Pipe Band and the Adeline Duncan Dancers.

High Hopes Held For Berry Crops

Strawberry Shipments Near Record; Good Raspas, Logan Yield Foreseen

Saanich strawberry growers sent their biggest shipment of strawberries in 15 years—31 carloads—to the prairie provinces this year.

"We received many congratulations for their quality," said J. J. Young, manager of Saanich Fruit Growers' Association. "The price was not all we had hoped, but it was fair."

Picking for the crate trade is complete, he said, but berries for jam are still being harvested.

Recent moist weather has helped an excellent crop of raspberries, Mr. Young said, and the first trickle has already reached local markets. They will be available in larger quantities by next week, he said.

Loganberries are ripening rapidly, but most of the crop is contracted for, Mr. Young said. There will be sufficient for local needs, he said, but warned against housewives waiting for a price drop.

"Prices will remain fairly stable," Mr. Young said. "We suggest that people buy early and be sure of having the berries they want."

far to the C.C.F., 3,763 were from Social Credit candidates' supporters. Of 13,622 votes transferred to the Social Credit, 4,923 were C.C.F.

Liberals got most of their transfers from the P.C.'s. "Plumping" totaled about 25 of 8,207 votes transferred so per cent.

Following is the Canadian Press analysis of transfer of votes among other parties: (Number of candidates eliminated shown in brackets.)

(Exhausted ballots shown in right-hand column are those improperly marked or not marked for a further choice after the eliminated candidate.)

These were the opinions expressed to the Times today by Sir John Hodsall, chief of Great Britain's civil defense, and Maj. Gen. F. F. Worthington, Canada's top defense co-ordinator.

"I'm immensely struck with the real progress being made in Canada. But the material progress is obviously better in the west than the east," Sir John said.

"You are right—and let's hope eastern Canada will soon catch up," was the terse agreement from Gen. Worthington.

The distinguished visitors will be the main figures at Victoria's first civil defense rally Saturday morning at 10.25 at the Commodore Street headquarters. It is hoped there will be a full turnout of civil defense workers.

Referring to Friday night's rally in the Hotel Vancouver, Sir John noted that it was "the best civil defense audience I've had the pleasure of appearing before." About 1,400 attended.

Canada and Britain were working very closely together in civil defense. He and Gen. Worthington have had many conferences to discuss problems arising in the civil defense program, said Sir John.

Sir John will return home next week and then go to Malta for civil defense conferences.

The general would not express an opinion when asked if he thought Victoria was more advanced in civil defense preparations than other Canadian centres.

However, he noted: "Victoria was the first city to install air raid sirens (no one else seemed to know how to do it) and your system is now being used as a pattern throughout Canada."

"Civil defense is here to stay. Before the last war civilian populations were not much involved. Now an enemy concentrates on knocking out the home front," said Gen. Worthington.

Two motorists were fined $200 each in Saanich police court today on impaired driving charges. Fined were James A. Goslin, 813 Cook, and Dermid Walker, 138 St. Giles.

Magistrate H. C. Hall remanded two Gordon Head soldiers to July 9 in police court today on a charge of robbery with violence pending the report of a probation officer.

Accused are Lemuel Blois, 20, and Howard J. Culhane, 18. They were arrested and charged following the beating of a Chinese, Yung Dan, Wednesday afternoon near the E. and N. roundhouse. Police said the pair took $21 and a wrist watch from him.

Both pleaded guilty.

Game Warden Joe Jones nursing three of the fawns died, said Game Warden Robert Sinclair.

"Those fawns you see by the roadside are not lost or abandoned. Their mothers are close by, likely feeding," he said.

"Once the human hand touches the deer's young ones the parent will have nothing more to do with them," said Warden Sinclair.

The warden explains that when a deer is raised by a human it loses its ability to care for itself when released in the wilds.

"Our parks boards cannot handle any more deer. They don't want them. All we can do then is nurse them to a stage where we feel they are big enough to go off on their own—but on release we know that their chances of survival against natural enemies have been drastically reduced," said Warden Sinclair.

The B.C. Game Department probably will not take action against anyone who "thinks" they are doing right in a "rescue," but will take persons into court who endeavor to make wild life family pets, the warden warned.

PROGRESS COUNTS IN B.C. ELECTION

This table shows progress counts of June 12 general election results at latest reports. The first column shows complete first-count figures, including absentee ballots. Other columns show the results of second and subsequent counts, and the transfer of votes from eliminated candidates as counting progressed. "Exhausted" ballots referred to are those on which voters "plumped"—voted for only one candidate, who was eliminated—or which did not give a clear indication of the voter's second choice. Exhausted ballots are deducted from the total vote, on each count, before the majority need for election can be determined. In brackets, after the name of each riding, is shown which party held the seat in the last House and the majority in the last election. Names of members of the last House are marked with asterisks.

U.B.C. Alumni Aid Pledged U.B.C. Alumni Society support for Victoria College's observance of its 50th anniversary was pledged here yesterday by Brig. Gordon Letson, president, and Frank Turner, secretary-manager.

In discussions with members of the Victoria alumni branch, Brig. Letson stated the provincial graduates' society would assist the local group in its campaign to raise a minimum of $5,000 for the Victoria College Library Fund, and indicated the college would be listed among the beneficiaries of the U.B.C. Development Fund in the future.

As a contribution to the anniversary effort this year, the alumni will conduct a follow-up campaign backing the College's approaching appeal for book funds.

Defeat of the two leaders was a crushing blow to the old-line parties, emphasized by the dismal showing of both in their first post-coalition test at the polls.

Premier Johnson's Liberal government has been shattered, and Mr. Anson's party is facing an uphill struggle for mere existence in B.C.

The premier's fellow cabinet ministers also fared poorly.

Health and Welfare Minister Douglas Turnbull, Rossland-Trail, and Agriculture Minister Harry Bowman, Fort George, lost their seats to Social Crediters R. E. Sommers and L. L. King, respectively.

Lands and Forests Minister E. T. Kenney, Skeena; Education Minister W. T. Straith, Victoria, and Attorney-General Gordon Wismer, Vancouver Centre, are still in the running.

The only former Conservative Cabinet minister still with a chance of re-election is former Public Works Minister E. C. Carson, Lillooet.

Former Trade and Industry Minister L. H. Eyres and ex-Municipal Affairs Minister R. C. MacDonald, Dewdney, have been defeated.

Premier Johnson's defeat came as a surprise because he was leading his C.C.F. opponent.

at the end of the second count, having picked up many second choice votes from P.C. candidate Mrs. Elizabeth Woods, who was dropped on the second count.

On the third count, however, the eliminated Social Credit candidate's second choice went to Mr. Eddie, the C.C.F. candidate, and the premier lost out by 614 votes on the final count.

In Fort George, Agriculture Minister Bowman was ahead slightly on the first count and increased on the second count. But on the third count, C.C.F. second choice votes swung to Social Credit.

Minister L. L. King, the minister finished 292 votes behind.

Could It Be That One And One Equals Four?

By PENNY SAVER

A new idea has been launched! Quite a remarkable idea, at that!

It has been decided that one and one equal four. It's as simple as that! Somebody dreams up a new idea on how to present a tube of lipstick to the public and first thing you know, people are saying, "One and one make four."

Crazy? Oh, hardly at all. I didn't learn arithmetic, either. To be serious, though, when you investigate you will find that a double-ended tube of lipstick does supply four different shades.

This is how it is done. Now, instead of speaking in terms of the different shades of red known in the lipstick world, I'll use common colors so you'll get the idea.

Say, for instance, there is green on one end of the tube and blue on the other. If you applied one end you would have green lipstick and if you applied the other, you have blue.

That's simple enough, but just about now you get a little tricky.

You put on the green first and then a coat of blue on top of that. You then have a greeny-blue shade, making a total now of three shades.

But if you reverse the application and put the blue on first and the green on top of it, you have a bluey-green shade. Total? Why, four, of course, and all from one tube.

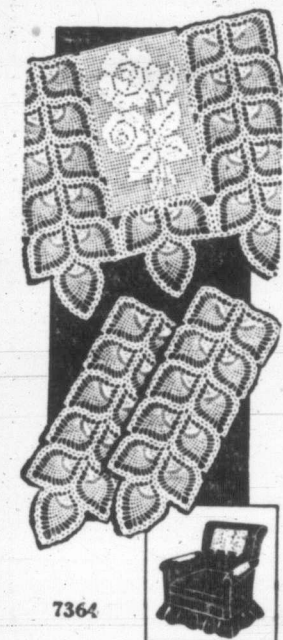

It probably makes you feel a bit squirmy to think of lipstick in shades of blue and green, but substitute those colors with your own favorite shades of lipstick and you'll see what a wonderful idea it is.

And to top it all off, the double-ended tube is only $1.25. The creamy textured lipstick, you'll find, has just the right amount of indelibility.

With so many showers scheduled for this month, I just couldn't let this gift suggestion pass.

For $1.25 you can buy a Chinese figurine with salt and pepper shaker flower baskets hanging from a yoke. It really would be a novel as well as a welcome gift.

Other salt and pepper shakers in the shape of animals are priced at $1.

TODAY'S RECIPE

STRAWBERRY SAUTERNE JELLY

One cup prepared juice, 3½ cups (1½ lbs.) sugar, 1 cup dry sauterne, ½ bottle liquid fruit pectin.

To prepare the juice, wash, stem, and crush 1 pint fully ripe strawberries. Place in jelly cloth or bag and squeeze out juice. Measure 1 cup into a large saucepan.

To make the jelly, add sugar to juice in saucepan and mix well. Place over high heat, bring to a full rolling boil, and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and stir in wine and liquid fruit pectin. Skim and pour quickly into glasses. Paraffin at once. Makes about 5 six-ounce glasses.

Housewives Beat High Spud Prices

Canadians everywhere are feeling the unusual economic pinch of high potato prices. For the first time in many years, potatoes which are a low-cost staple food item in practically every Canadian home, have risen in price through scarcity to being almost a luxury food. Especially where families are large or are growing, the additional price of potatoes makes budget balancing for the mother in the home a very difficult job.

One of the ways in which high cost of potatoes can be offset to some extent is familiar to many Canadians, and particularly to those familiar with European cuisine. These people know that thousands of European families replace potatoes, to a greater or lesser degree, with macaroni products. These products are highly nutritious, provide ample bulk, and are very inexpensive.

Here in Canada there are three different types of macaroni products which can be economically used at present in place of potatoes. They are macaroni, spaghetti and noodles. All these products can be served in a variety of forms to replace potatoes as a vegetable, and the cost per serving is the same or slightly less than the current price of old potatoes and much cheaper than servings of new potatoes.

Children particularly will like to change because of its novelty, and they are quick to appreciate the variety introduced in the family menu. Mothers soon find spaghetti, macaroni or noodles are easy and quick to prepare.

Glenlyon Garden Party

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church is holding its annual garden party on Saturday in the spacious grounds of Glenlyon's School, 1701 Beach Drive. Various stalls such as home cooking, fancy work, aprons, candy, fresh vegetables, handkerchiefs and white elephant will be among the attractions. For the children there will be a miniature train, merry-go-round and a mammoth fishpond. A nursery will be provided for the tiny tots. Tea will be served under a large marquee. The Adeline Duncan Dancers, the pro-rec tumbling team and the Canadian Scottish band will be in attendance. Entire proceeds will be for the organ fund. Mrs. C. C. Warren and Mrs. Walter Holder are co-conveners and Mrs. R. Morrison and Mrs. D. Scott tea conveners.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Speakers Should Choose Costume With Great Care

Here are some rules from Mr. Max Factor which are guaranteed to make you more effective and younger-looking as a lecturer or a speechmaker in everyday life.

1. If you have a neck which is really old-looking you would be wise to wear high necklines.

2. Wear nothing that will distract so much attention that your listeners will remember your clothes and forget what you are saying. Everything you can do to appear vital and get your message to your audience is important. Simple but becoming lines in dress are the answer.

3. Favor light colors because they light up your face and make you look younger. Remember this is everyday life. White and lighter colors reflect light so that shadows disappear. If, because of taste or figure, you wish to wear dark colors be sure to have collars or scarves or hats which are light and reflect light on and around your face. Black and dark shades are slimming and may be indicated for some women, but have that light contrast close to the face.

4. Choose your costume for the lecture platform of a color which will go with most flowers, for you may be given a bouquet.

5. Do not wear a veil on the lecture platform. It will cause the portion of the face it covers to look grey and even old and wrinkled to those a few rows away from you. If you wear a veil at all, let it be small, a part of the hat's trimming. Do not wear one that drapes down to the shoulders.

6. If you are going to have a spotlight during the entire time you talk, do not wear jewels which sparkle highly. Those to whom you are speaking may become more interested in the sparkle of your ornaments than the sparkle of your speech.

7. Do not wear a large hat. They overpower you and throw shadows on your face. Use off-the-face hats or those which perch on one side of your head.

8. Your hairdo should be becoming but simple so that your audience will not be bemused by your hair and forget you.

One last hint about makeup. If your hands are at all rough or old looking, use the same foundation and powder on them as you used on your face and neck.

With a feeling of confidence which the flattering makeup and costume will give you, you will be able best to project your personality—and don't forget those people in the very last row!

Expert Woman Angler Misses Good Streams

HALIFAX, July 4 (CP) — Mrs. Florence Whittaker, Nova Scotia's female Izaak Walton, is spending the angling season in bed this year, an unwilling patient in hospital here.

While recovering from an operation, she can only dream of the bubbling streams and placid lakes where she fished along with the best of them during the last 30 years. It will be some months before she can hike again over the rugged terrain near her home at Sherbrooke for the fish she hopes will still be there.

It was more than 30 years ago that her grandfather, himself an avid fisherman, first interested her in the sport. Since then she has fished all the rivers in mainland Nova Scotia, mostly for salmon.

Her first honor was a silver award from the Halifax County Fish and Game Association for catching the largest Atlantic salmon—a 22-inch beauty. She was one of that association's first female members and later became the first woman member of the St. Mary's Fish and Game Association.

Then she became a registered guide—"so that I could take part in their competitions, was the real reason," she says. In her first year at the Nova Scotia Guides' Association meet, 1938, she made a cast of more than 98 feet with a salmon rod.

Pure Silk Stole Creates Interest At Local Exhibit of Hand Weaving

Duke of Kent Room, Empress Hotel—took more "new look" yesterday when doors opened for the national weaving exhibition in which largest entry was from the sponsoring Victoria Hand Weavers' Guild.

The weaving, nearly 400 pieces, has been done by members of the local group, with the exception of a small out-of-town display that helps to show how favorably work of the local guild compares with that of groups across Canada.

Mrs. F. E. Clark, a prominent member of the club, displayed one of the most novel articles. It was a stole woven from pure silk threads which she brought with her from a recent trip to England. Although the local members have worked with many threads, pure silk is one which has not been used very often.

The stole, basically pure white, is fringed on either end and Green lawns, flowering shrubs and roses combined with the beauty of a perfect summer day to create a picture setting for the annual garden party of St. Mary's Women's Guild, held Thursday at the St. Denis Street home of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Carmichael.

A sum of approximately $753 was realized.

Col. Maurice Turner, O.B.E., introduced by guild president, Mrs. T. W. Kensington, opened the affair at 2.30 and was presented with a boutonniere by little Miss Audrey Spalding.

Receiving guests with Mrs. Kensington were Mrs. G. E. Morris, Mrs. C. F. Draeger and Mrs. A. E. deL. Nunns.

Conveners and assistants at stalls were: Woolens, Mrs. H. B. Forster, Mrs. N. M. Foulkes, Mrs. G. H. Richardson, Mrs. J. A. Loggie and Mrs. J. Watson; Linens, Mrs. W. Woodward, Mrs. F. Diagnosis May Move Heart Murmur Fears

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

A worried lady writes that her eight-year-old son has been found to have a heart murmur, and that this is on her mind a great deal. Like many others, she also wants to know just what this means, what causes it and what can be done for it.

The situation with regard to most heart murmurs is now much better than it was a generation ago, when far too many youngsters who were found to have a murmur over the heart were put to bed for months at a time.

The reason this has changed for the better is that much more is known about heart murmurs and many of them today are recognized as not being really serious.

In some children, for example, the growth of the heart and the valves inside the heart do not keep pace with each other, so that the valves allow a small amount of blood to slip back, causing a murmur to be heard over the region of the valve.

This kind of murmur is not due to disease, and tends to disappear as the youngster grows older. Actually, it is the failure of the valves between the four chambers of the heart to hold back the blood, which causes a murmur.

It is true, however, that there are serious causes for murmurs which result from abnormality of the heart valves, caused either by disease or which were present at birth. The valve deformities present at birth are fairly rare and can usually be discovered quite early. Some can be corrected by surgery.

Most of the valve troubles, which cause murmurs in youth are caused by rheumatic fever. Even this, however, can be so mild that nothing--serious ever develops.

Rheumatic fever injures the heart valves by causing growths on the lips or cusps of the valves so that they cannot close completely. If the damage to the heart valves has been severe, the murmur may mean that physical activity has to be curtailed.

HEART STILL DOES JOB

However, in many cases the growths are small and not active, and even though they have produced enough damage to cause a murmur to be heard, the heart is able to do its job without trouble.

An accurate diagnosis of cause and degree of damage should be made. The mere presence of a murmur in the heart is not enough, nor does it always mean that ordinary exercise has to be eliminated, or that there will be serious interference with life or health.

Garbage Levies Parley Subject

A special meeting of the Greater Victoria inter-municipal committee will be called to discuss the city's garbage levies to other municipalities.

At budget time the city upped the charge from 55 cents a cubic yard to 78 cents. Oak Bay protested that its budget had already been set when the new charge went into effect.

Reeve P. A. Gibbs asked that the new rates not be implemented until Jan. 1, 1953. Aided cost is between $1,600 and $1,800.

The meeting will be held to explain that Victoria budget was set before those of the other municipalities. Ald. Percy Scurreh, public works chairman, said.

Police Ask Light For Crosswalk

Proposal for a pedestrian crosswalk on Yates Street, midway between Douglas and Blanshard, hit a snag Thursday.

City Council public works committee wants the crosswalk, but without lights. Chief of Police John Blackstock will only concur with the crosswalk plan if there is some lighting. Cyril Jones, city engineer, reported.

Ald. Percy Scurreh, chairman, laid the matter over for another meeting to which the chief will be invited.

"I don't see why there cannot be rubber signs instead of lighting," said Ald. Jim Neely, and Ald. Scurreh agreed. "People are breaking the law by crossing now."

For the first time in history the United States now has more women than men, about 100 women to 96 men.

'Teen-Age Narcotics Problem Tackled by Police Officials

VANCOUVER, July 4 (CP).--Attorney-General Gordon Wismer and Chief Constable Walter Mulgan met here Thursday to discuss ways to aid teen-aged narcotic addicts.

It was learned that they are discussing a proposal where the city and the province will split the cost of treatment if the addicts can be cured.

The four juvenile addicts picked up in the police probe into the sale of narcotics to teenagers will be moved to an out-of-town hospital tomorrow, it was reported.

A doctor said two of the girls were going through the agonizing pain of complete narcotic withdrawal because there were no treatment facilities here.

Simultaneously with the discussions it was reported charges may be laid against a man already in B.C. penitentiary, another in Oakalla, and a third in city jail.

A fourth man, described as a "key figure," is being sought. Six others are already charged with contributing to juvenile delinquency by the administration of narcotics.

Police said today they have the names of 12 more juveniles who have been taking narcotics and said they will question them to learn the source of their supply.

FILM REVIEW

TWO FOR THE SHOW

AA (Oscar class). BB (Worthwhile). A (Don't miss). C (To put in time).
By PHIL LEE

(A) The Story of Robin Hood (Royal) — A host of boyhood friends held forth at the Royal Theatre, Thursday evening, with the same remembered enchantment. There was Friar Tuck, Little John, minstrel Allan-A-Dale, beautiful Maid Marion and, of course, that dashing defender of the poor, Robin Hood, and his merrie band of Sherwood outlaws.
In spite of liberties taken by director Kenneth Annakin with the original story, such as re-positioning the archery contest, which I always looked upon as the most dramatic incident in the entire tale, the show was entirely enjoyable. I was somewhat rueful over Robin's bowmanship though. Where, as he was an excellent shot I thought he had slipped from the old Fairbank's days when he could shoot three arrows into a piece of wood thrown into the air.

However, with due deference to today's production, I thought the Disney color was delightful in its storybook colors and the sound of the flight of arrows the best I had heard since Henry V.
Richard Todd, who played such a memorable part in "The Hasty Heart," I thought was miscast as the swashbuckling, audacious Robin Hood, but Joan Rice as Maid Marion was exceptionally believable.
Highlight of the presentation was the manner in which the lines were spoken. Diction was the best I've heard in many a film moon.
With a number of last week's flaws ironed out, "Woodward's Radio Showcase" had a tremendous half-hour with itself on the Royal's stage. What with the on-stage shenanigans of Emcee Huguette Curtis, CAV's one-man appliance; his partners, Stan Peters and Jacques Sawyer, accompanist, Royal patrons were treated to some promising local talent for the second successive Thursday. The show goes every Thursday for 13 weeks.
Improvement in the show, for my money, stemmed from the variety of the offerings plus the youthfulness of the contestants. They ranged all the way from pianist Sylvia Ditchburn and her Chopin Waltz in E Minor to a delightful and unusual flute and clarinet duet by Linda Reddan and Muriel Smith.
Seventeen-year-old Bill Gaetz, who shows promise aplenty, sang "Summertime" with proficiency, clarity and remarkable control considering his years. Lawrence Houston, at 14, twiddled his alto sax through "My Blue Heaven" with the aplomb of a Wane King, while 15-year-old Barbara Donnison was charming with "A Heart That's Free."
Last week's winner, pianist David Price, was his old easy self at the keyboard with "Vienna, City of My Dreams." The boy has "class."
If I end on a sour note, kids, forgive me. But will you get someone to show you how to get on and off the stage with grace and ease. You're so good on it that it's a pity to spoil the effect by unfinished entrances and exits.

Textile Workers Vote Today on Ending of Strike
MONTREAL, July 4 (CP). — Polling booths open today for some 5,700 textile workers who vote to decide whether they will end a strike that has lasted three months and brought an upheaval in union ranks.
The workers are those of Dominion Textile Co. in Montreal and its subsidiary, Montreal Cottons, in Valleyfield.
About 3,000 are expected to vote in Valleyfield and 2,700 in Montreal.
The vote is on settlement proposals reached between representatives of United Textile Workers of America (A.F.L.-T.L.C.) and the company.

1.5% of Fund For Britain Spent on Food

TORONTO, July 4 (BUP). — The United Emergency Relief Fund raised more than $550,000 to send food parcels to Britain but spent only $771.84, a provincial investigation revealed today.
Public Trustee Armand Racine reported to Attorney-General Dana Porter that the remaining $549,000 went into "overhead and administration costs."
The inquiry into the nationally-organized relief fund was ordered last year by the Ontario government. Then C.C.F. Leader E. B. Joffe called in March for legislation to assure the public that charitable funds would really be devoted toward accomplishing their object, instead of "lining the pockets of shady characters about whom we might know nothing." There was a danger, too, he warned, that well-meaning but misguided individuals might run into difficulties.
The inquiry, on a provincial level, started the next day.
Racine said there was no indication of anything underhand in the relief fund's operation. Nor were there any conclusions drawn in his report, or recommendations made.
It was evident, however, he wrote, that the fund set its sights too high, and that the fund was not fulfilling the object for which it had been organized.
When the question was first raised, Sir Ellisworth Flavelle, former fund chairman, said: "We haven't the slightest fear of an investigation. There is nothing in the fund that will not stand investigation."

"Gracious," said our eldest, as we walked by the beach, "hasn't she got the most wonderful reach?" "Yep," I replied, "she cuts a mean slice, and that wood is sure gonna warm her twice. But look," I said, as we continued our stroll, "there's a cross-arm from a telephone pole." We stood by the railing above the beach, "let's get it, eh?" "boy, it's a peach." Down we slid where it lay on the sand, "for fixing the raspberries, it'll just be grand. I'll saw it in half, it'll hold up the wire, and it's just the size that I require. Get it up on your shoulder, easier that way," and so back home, we struggled with a bag. You, too, can pick up a bargain or two, so listen to me, here's what you do. BISHOP URGES LESS HIGH-PRESSURE ADS

BRIGHTON, Sussex, England (CP)—Dr. G. K. Bell, Bishop of Chichester, says that the old "sensational appeals" of advertising have less effect than they once did.

"What people ask for more and more today," Dr. Bell told the Advertising Association at its annual conference, "is information and argument."

Dr. Bell appealed to advertisers not to play upon people's passions or their worst instincts.

"Don't play fast and loose with the deceiver, says the old 'sensational appeals' of advertising have less effect than they once did."

Dr. Bell told the Advertising Association at its annual conference, "is information and argument."

Who'll Be Premier?

W. A. C. BENNETT

HAROLD WINCH

One of these two men may be the next Premier of British Columbia. Premier Johnson announced today he will turn over the government to the leader of the largest party as soon as final election results are official. The C.C.F. Party has the edge on counting so far which would mean that Mr. Winch gets the post. But the Social Credit Party has a chance of overhauling them when counts are completed in the big Vancouver ridings. The Socreds will hold a caucus July 15 to choose a leader and Mr. Bennett is a No. 1 contender for the post, which would carry with it the premiership if his party can take the lead in members.

B.C. Lumber Faces Big Challenge—MacMillan

World-Wide Markets Overstocked and Hit By Falling Prices, Asserts Lumber Baron

VANCOUVER, July 4 (CP)—British Columbia's export lumber industry, with world-wide markets overstocked and hit by falling prices, faces the greatest challenge in its history, H. R. MacMillan said in an interview here.

MacMillan, chairman of the board of the multi-million dollar MacMillan and Bloedel Ltd., one of the world's biggest lumber shippers, reviewed world conditions and disappearing markets, and he said:

"But we, in this business, have had our ups and downs before. I know myself we will work out this one."

It had all started, he said, long before the current strike of 32,000 International Woodworkers of America (C.I.O.-C.C.L.).

"The two subjects," he said, "are not related."

The United States and Canada now constitute B.C.'s only two immediate major outlets for the lumber industry, Mr. MacMillan said.

British merchants, he said, are in no hurry to buy. They have more than a year's supply of lumber on hand.

"There is an additional 1,250,000,000 feet of first-class lumber in Sweden, Finland, Russia, Poland and Czechoslovakia, ready to ship. The British merchants would just as soon have that lumber as ours."
